++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Colder, brighter day with sunshine and chance of a shower.

Today:
Largely sunny start, but feeling cold in freshening northerly winds. Cloud building through the morning, although most parts staying dry. A few showers are possible, most frequent and heaviest across Kent towards the evening period. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
A cold night, with any remaining showers soon clearing. The exception to this being Kent where showers will continue and probably be frequent and occasionally heavy. Breezy, especially near coasts. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Monday:
Monday will be a fine day with sunshine. Showers near Kent for much of the day. Winds easing light by evening away from coasts. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Bright start on Tuesday before turning mostly cloudy by Wednesday and remaining mostly dry. Chance of morning fog. Some rain likely overnight. Probably brightening up during Thursday. Temperatures near normal.
